1. Non-profits: This includes the use of images for the purposes of research, exhibition, media presentation Web sites or not-for-profit publication at the discretion of the Kelley House Executive Director. When used for exhibition, publication or media presentation, copyright notice shall appear within close proximity, to read as follows: "Provided courtesy of the Kelley House Museum, Inc., Mendocino, CA." One copy of any published work using images provided by KHM, Inc. must be provided free of charge to the museum's reference library. Note: If the format of the presentation (e.g. video) does not allow for the notice to be placed directly with the protected work, notice must be provided elsewhere in the presentation.
2. Personal: All reproductions that are not for publication, and are based upon a one-time use only. Any subsequent reproduction and or use are by permission only and subject to additional conditions and fees.
3. Commercial: Any image(s) used in for-profit publications or on Web sites are subject to Copyright protection, and fees are based on agreed upon usage. Images or reproductions are not to be altered in any way. Rights granted for publication are not exclusive and the museum reserves the right to make image(s) available to others. One copy of any published work is to be provided free of charge to the museum's reference library.
